INTRODUCTION.

The work has been compiled to meet a want which is greatly felt in this Province by all whose duties bring them in contact with the natives in business or social life.

There are very few persons who are familiar with English, Burmese, Hindustani and Tamil. People from India often know one or both of the native languages but are unable to converse in the third. Their stay here is generally too short to render their acquisition of Burmese either desirable or useful—though whilst here they have frequent occasions to wish to make themselves understood by Burmans or others.

To aid such is one of the purposes of this work. In its preparation the Revd. F. Poynder's Dictionary, published by the Christian Knowledge Society has been employed. From that Dictionary all words in common use have been incorporated into the Vocabulary in alphabetical order.

A few useful sentences, on the plan of Forbes's Hindustani Manual, have been added,

The Burmese is given in the native character as well as in English. It has not been the design of the compilers to adopt any new system of transliteration but they have tried so to spell the words that an ordinary English reader will be able to pronounce them.

In the preparation of this work the compilers feel that they have striven to supply a real want. They are conscious of many imperfections in their performance, but they send forth their book with every confidence that it will be found useful. Its defects they will endeavour to rectify in future editions.

The accents are not intended to divide syllables, but simply to show on what syllable stress is to be laid. Whenever an accent is placed directly over a vowel, that vowel has its own full sound. The following abbreviations will be found in the Vocabulary :—

a. ADJECTIVE.
adv. ADVERB.
conj. CONJUNCTION.
interj. INTERJECTION.
n. NEUTER.
part. PARTICIPLE.
pass. PASSIVE.
pl. PLURAL.
poss. POSSESSIVE.
pr. PREPOSITION.
pret. PRETERITE.
pron. PRONOUN.
rel. RELATIVE.
s. SUBSTANTIVE.
v. a. VERB ACTIVE.
v. n. VERB NEUTER.
Fr. FRENCH.
Gr. GREEK.
Ital. ITALIAN.

RANGOON.

With regard to the Burmese words in English characters. The pronunciation adopted is that in use in England and not the continental mode.

ah	is the open English sound in	bah	or the French	ā in chār
ă	is the short	do păpa	do	ă in părole aw	is the broad	do săw	do or	ē in ēntrez ee	is the long	do see	do	ī in autruī
e (final)	is the short	do be or the final y in city	do	ĭ in luĭ
ĕ (medial)		bed	do	ĕ in pĕrdrix
ĭ	is the short English sound in	pin	do	i in mĭnuir
oh	is the long English sound of o in stone		do	eau in morceau
o	is the short English word in	stop	do	ŏ in monnaie uy is the long English sound of uy in buy, ei in German, mein, or long ī in mīne.

y is the ordinary consonant English sound of y in yes e, g, kyin pron. kee-in.

m' n' th' etc. is the expression of these consonants, without any vowel between them and the next letter.

w at the begining of a syllable is used as a consonant.

ow has the ordinary English sound as in town.

u has the short English sound of u in bun.

h before m (as in hmyah, pron. h'meah) the lips to be closed and a rough breathing through the nose.

ng initial as ng in fli*ng*.

hng initial as ng in fli*ng* preceeded by the rough breathing.

h before a consonant is the guttural sound not used in English but like the ch in Scotch, or in German suchen.

SCHEME OF LETTERS

ADOPTED IN THE ROMANIZED TAMIL WORDS OF THE FOLLOWING VOCABULARY.

—:o:—

Vowels.

a as in delta.
á as in father.
i as in pin.
í as in pique.
u as oo in good.
ú as oo in food.
e as in mendicant.
é as in grey.
ai as in aisle.
o as in police.
ó as in story.
au as ou in foul.

Consonants.

k as in king.
ṅ as ng in angle.
ch as in church.
ñ as ni in onion.
ḍ as in drum.
ṇ a hard cerebral n
t as t in Italian.
n as in fancy.
p as in pardon.
m as in demand.
y as in yellow.
r as in burial.
l as in manly.
v as in marvel.
l̲ a mixture of r,l and the French j.
ḷ as in glove.
ṟ as in crack.
ṉ as in fancy.

Sanskrit Letters, &c.

sh as in shake.
s as in sin.
h as in hunger.
ḥ called aitha.

NOTES ON THE ALPHABET.

1. i when followed by ḍ ṇ ṟ l̲ ḷ is sounded something like u. The character of these consonants modifies the sound of the vowel i.

2. í before ḍ ṇ ṟ l̲ ḷ is sounded like the German úh—as víḍu.

3. é before ḍ ṇ ṟ l̲ ḷ sounds like the German oé in Goethe—as méḍu pronounced moéḍu.

4. k as an initial and when doubled is sounded as k ; but when medial in Tamil words it is pronounced like g—as kágam, pakkam.

5. ch,—the power of this letter representing, as it does, several letters in words of Sanskrit origin as well as Tamil words, is sometimes ch, j and s—as chinna, janam, másam. Use will however soon overcome the difficulties incident to the different sounds of this consonant.

6. t is like t in Italian when initial and when doubled—as tan, katti ; and when it is medial and final it has the sound of th—as kaṭhu, puthu.

7. p when preceded by m, or n is sounded very much like b—as pámbu, anbu.

8. tch—as mátchimai.

ñj—as pañju

tt is similar to the cerebral t—as in trump—as pattanam.

r when mute before a consonant, has the sound of the cerebral t—as karpanai; Double rr is similar in sound to tt in pattern—as parri; when r is preceded by n it has very nearly its natural power—as kanru, panri.

N. B. In pronouncing words in which a consonant is doubled great care must be taken to sound both letters. one of course as a mute. Two or three words are given for the purpose of impressing this caution on the mind of the beginner—as palli, illai, killai. If care be not taken to pronounce the first syllable clearly the above words might be mistaken for pali, ilai and kilai.

The Days of the Week.

Monday, tingadkilamai.
Tuesday, chevváykkilamai.
Wednesday, puthankilamai.
Thursday, viyálakkilamai.
Friday, vellikkilamai.

Saturday, sanikkilamai.
